renewing and increasing its support of the Chamber.

It has been a year of marked progress in Richmond, and has witnessed the realization of many hopes long deferred, and has seen set on foot many new and encouraging plans.

Our people are beginning to appreciate truly the significance and the value of that thing which is called "public spirit," and which for a segment to be beneficial to the community as whole, and which teaches in a practical way the trul of the old but never-to-be-despited adage that "in union there is attempth." Richmond is coming to the front in all the essentials that give assurance of solid success, and individual enterprise could never accomplish. The year past is conspicuously memorated in the city's record for the great expansion in business, increase of values of real estate, and large additions made to our population. Richmond and Manchester and their immediate suburbs now have nearly 100,000 inhabitants, and we are almost up to that line winch, once passed, experience shows, puts a city on the highway to commercial greatness. If we accept the judgment of visitors we have a beautiful city; still it is possible to improve it, and in my belief no step in that direction could be so effective as the appointment of a building inspector. I dare say that no city in this country of our size is without such an officer, and I recommend to you to petition the City.

This inspectors should grant building permits, supervise the construction of houses to far as the public is ninerested, and see that the plans and other accidents. He should also be required to keep accounts of the amount of work done in the city, so that at the end of each year tho public shall be informed of the expansion of the building interest; for io it will be found the key to the progress of the construction of houses to far as the public is referred.

The support of the process of the prosperity of the city in any refer to the fact that among our to the progress of the city, so that at the end of each year thop the city is

NEARLY ENOUGH SIGNATURES.

Local-Option Election This Summer Almost Certain. It is now a conceded fact that a local-option election will be held in Richmond this summer, and it will probably take place some ime during the latter part of July. Over three thousand signatures have been obtained to the petitions asking Judge Atkins to order an election, and many of the canvassers have not yet reported. It is esti-mated that at the meeting of temperance-men to be held at McDonough's Hall Satur-day night, at which all forty of the petitions e to be handed in, the aggregate number signers will be found to reach at least four thousand, and some think even as many as five thousand will be secured.

Judge Atkios will be authorized to act in the matter when petitions are presented to him containing 3,417 signatures.

The petitions do not name any time for the election, but it is thought very likely that when the petition is presented the Pro-

Verdict Against the Raitroad.

The only case tried in the City Circuit Court yesterday was that of Alice C. Buchsan, administratrix of John W. Buchanan, administratrix of John W. Buchanan, administratrix of John W. Buchanan, neceiver of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company. Damages were placed at $10,600, and the jury returned a verdict for one fourth of that amount. The cause of action arose from the death of John W. Buchanan, an emologé of the defendant, which occurred at Lindsay Station on the 7th of November, ISS7, said decedent being at the time a brakeman on one of the Chesapeake and Ohio trains and being run over and killed by the train, caused by a misplaced switch. Rev. Robert P. Kerr, D. D., of the Presbyterian Church, was then introduced and delivered an able address. He said he had been told there were 10,000 scholars in the public schools, and, looking over the house, he wondered if they were all present. [Laughter.] He did not doubt that a great many of the boys, now that school was over, would go fishing to-morrow; but if they went they should take the girls with them. these oaths; it is, to say the least, doubtful if the Mayor-elect is authorized to administer them, so, to make sure, each member-elect had better appear before the Hustings Court, or some other court of record, and quality according to law, and they should do it at once.

Cut His Head and Broke the Brick About 11 o'clock yesterday morning a brick failing from the wall of the Allen house, at the northeast corner of Tweifth and Broad streets, which is being torn down to give place to a group of tene-ments, struck Josiah Davenport, a colored laborer, on the head, making a fearful gash back of the right ear. The ambulance was back of the right car. The amountance was summoned and Dr. Pierrepont sewed up the wound and then carried Davenport to his home, on Duval street. The brick was broken by coming in contact with Daven-port's cranium.

Five Dollars and One Minute. The Henrico County Court was in session yesterday and the case of C. W. G. Watkins, charged with fetoniously assulting John H. Allen, was tried. Both parties were inmates of Lee Camp Soldiers' Home, and their trou-ble was the outgrowth of a quarrel about some work that they had been assigned to do. The accused was found guilty and sentenced to a fine of $5 and imprisonment in the county juil for one minute. Judge Farrar, of Amelia, sat in the trial of the case, as Judge Minor is connected with the Soldiers' Home

An alleged mad-dog was shot yesterday morning by Sergeant Whitlock, of the First police station, on Mayo street near the Police Court. The dog belonged to a colored msn, and it was reported to have bitten somebody.

There was an immense crowd yesterday at the opening of the Great Fire-Sale of fine clothing. The crowd was so great that it was almost impossible to get near the entrance to clothing. The crowd was so great that it was almost impossible to get near the entrance to the store. No. 1415 cast Main street. The recent large fire at the wholesale clothing manufactory of Bradley, Anderson & Co., of New York, having slightly damaged the stock of clothing by smoke and water to the extent of $50,000, everything is being sold at retail for one haif of the cost to manufacture, and the entire stock must be closed out in less than two weeks. We have only space to mention a few of the bargains that are being offered: Sixty-eight cents will buy men's good-wearing pants; $1.47 will buy men's good cassimere pants in light and dark

The meandescent lights just put in the Fourth Presbyterian church by the Richmond Electric-Light Company were tested at the Wednesday evening service and proved a great success. The church was brilliantly lighted with a soft, steady, intense white light. There was no heat. This is the first church in the city furnished with incandescent lights.

This is a positive change of plans, and one of which the Richmond couractors knew nothing, and one which gives the Washington contractors several thousand dollars advantage. Although the Richmond contractors labored zealously to make suitable bids they have been utterly ignored, and we hereby beg to enter our protest against this treatment from the Supervising Architect's office.

W. A. CHESTERMAN, JOHN F. BELL.

late of Hell & Bowles.

At a meeting of the Master Carpenters' Association of Richmond, Va., June 12, 1888, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas it has come to the knowledge of the Master Carpenters' Association of Richmond, Va., that in the bidding for the completion of the custom-house, post-office, &c., of Richmond, Va., that seemingly unjust discrimination against Richmond contractors was made, thereby virtually ignoring them in the award of the said contract:

Received, That as contractors and builders of the city of Richmond we protest against discrimination and favoritism in Government offices.

Received further, That our representative in Congress he requested to investigate the matter as to the reasons of this discrimination.

Received further, That a copy of these resolutions be published in the daily papers and a copy sent to our representative and the Supervising Architect and the United States Treasures.
